American And Jap Sea Forces Near Showdown

Report Skirmishes Over Wide Area Of Pacific In Guadalcanal Sector

NO REPORTS YET OF LARGE CLASH

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Powerful American and Japanese fleet task forces supported by planes today are stabbing at each other in the Guadalcanal area in what appears to be another important enemy thrust against U. S. forces in the South Pacific.

Despite a statement by Secretary of the Navy Knox that no major sea-air battle has taken place, preliminary and meager reports from the war zone left no doubt that the Japanese had moved in strong fleet units possibly for another "showdown" fight.

Following the secretary's press conference, the navy issued another communique which stated that "air and surface engagements between U. S. and enemy forces in the Guadalcanal area of the Solomons are continuing."

Skirmishing Over Wide Area

Explaining the communique, a naval spokesman said that "numerous" American and Jap task forces had been skirmishing over a wide area around Guadalcanal.

"It is perfectly safe to say that the Japs are trying their best to take Guadalcanal" the spokesman said. Whatever the outcome, early reports bore out the belief that the seventh battle for Guadalcanal was underway and that both sides have

Miners Demand $2 Day Increase

Showdown Struggle Over Government's Wage Ceiling Formula Looms

By JEAN CRAIGHEAD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—A showdown struggle over the government's wage ceiling formula raged today as John L. Lewis demanded a $2-a-day wage increase for 500,000 soft coal miners and the AFL and CIO told President Roosevelt that the pay plan was "too rigid."

Labor's increasing demands for revocation of the formula, set up by the war labor board in its "Little Steel" decision, came to a head as it was reported that the WLB asked Economic Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes to decide whether the formula should be revised upward.

Lewis, burly chief of the United Mine Workers, attacked the WLB's wage plan as a violation of labor's no-strike agreement with the government and declared that "inflation is more or less here and there is no compensation for the miners."

He disclosed that the UMW policy committee formally approved the demands for a $2-a-day pay raise for the bituminous miners—$1 more per day more than Lewis had previously said he would ask for.

Wage negotiations with the soft coal operators to renew present contracts are scheduled to start in New York City March 1. The present contracts expire April 1.

Dr. R. F. Galbreath Will Head Great Red Cross Drive

Accepts Chairmanship Of $96,000 War Fund Drive Which Starts March 1

RECALLS AID GIVEN IN 1918

Announcement today of the acceptance of Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, of New Wilmington, president of Westminster College, of the chairmanship of the $96,000 war fund drive of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, focuses the attention of Lawrence county residents on this impending campaign, which will get under way on March 1. The announcement was made by Walter W. Duff, chairman of the board of the Lawrence County chapter. The nation at large is asked to raise $125,000,000, so Lawrence county's share is a fair proportion of the national total Mr. Duff states.

The sum to be raised is the largest ever asked in a Red Cross campaign and is made imperative as the work of the Red Cross keeps expanding to meet the need of the armed forces in the farflung battle fronts of the world.

Realizing that a man of high calibre was needed to direct this great campaign, the Red Cross Chapter asked Dr. Galbreath to take the helm, and he graciously accepted without any equivocation.

Says American Food Is Keeping Russia In War

Secretary Of Agriculture Wickard Cites Lend-Lease, Value In Victory

WARNS U. S. WILL FEEL PINCH IN '43

By JACK VINCENT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard today told the house foreign affairs committee that "fighting" American food is keeping Russia in the war and shortening the conflict.

"It is men—Russian men—who are winning the all important battles," Wickard said. "If the supplies of American food which are going to those men, fraction though it is of the total supply, were to be cut off tomorrow, they would almost surely have to stop fighting."

Ship Much To Russia

Wickard, speaking in favor of continuation of lend-lease food shipments, also pointed out that "the food we have shipped under lend-lease has been a major factor in keeping the British in the war."

Revealing that in December, for the first time, this country shipped more food to Russia than to Britain, Wickard said, "I submit to you that that food, along with the other war materials that we have been sending to the Russians, had paid magnificent dividends.

"Its importance," he continued, "is indicated by the fact that the Russians are giving food top priority in shipping at this time."

Wickard asserted that, despite the fact that Russia has lost to the Nazis a great part of her rich agricultural land, the Soviets have not asked America for "any appreciable help in feeding her civilian population. Only the merest dribble of lend-lease food has gone for that purpose."

"Civilian rations," America's war food administrator said, "have been

Soviet Forces Sweep Forward In Steady Advance On City Of Rostov

MORE GERMANS MAY BE IN SOVIET TRAP

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Feb. 4.—Russian troops commanded by Gen. Yeremenko have stormed a large town south of Rostov and a Soviet tank detachment already has reached the center of the town, battlefront dispatches said today.

The Germans, despite counter-attacks, are being rolled back toward Rostov by the determined Russian advance.

By NATALIA RENE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Feb. 4.—Soviet armies swept forward in a steady advance today on the gateway city of Rostov as German armies were reported in flight across the northwest Caucasus.

The nearness to the city of the approaching Soviet forces was indicated in the text of the noon high command communique which mentioned Rostov specifically for the first time since the drive to retake the oil refining center was launched.

"Southward of Rostov," the communique said, "our force, overcoming enemy resistance and repelling enemy counter-attacks, continued to advance."

A battalion of German infantry was wiped out by the Russians near the captured town of Kuchevskaya, 43 miles southwest of Rostov. Ten tanks were destroyed in the engagement.

Nazi troops armed with tommy guns strove unsuccessfully on another sector to penetrate Soviet positions and were repelled with heavy losses.

British Armored Force Battle Axis In Tunisia

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Heavy battling continued today between Allied and Axis armored forces in Tunisia while the British Eighth Army in Western Libya advanced steadily toward the frontier of the French protectorate.

A Reuter's news agency listening post quoted the Fighting French Brazzaville radio as reporting that forward elements of the Eighth Army already had reached the Mareth defense line well inside Tunisia. The British patrols were said to be conducting reconnaissances in the area of Matmata, 30 miles south of the Port of Gabes.

On the central Tunisian front a large-scale movement of German forces east of Ousseltia was reported by Allied headquarters in North Africa. The Nazis were moving from the Kairouan road junction and it was believed they may be preparing a strong attack in the Ousseltia sector.

Plan To Probe Civilian Economy Plan

Congressman Starts Move

Disagreement Among WPB Planners On Some Aspects Of Situation

BLOW AT PRESS HINTED IN ORDER

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—A congressional investigation impended today into the actions and plans of federal agencies for streamlining the nation's civilian economy to fit the pattern of an all-out war effort.

The move came amidst some disagreement even among war production board planners as to whether the civilian economy has been trimmed too much, or not enough, and proposals for a new independent agency to handle civilian supply and rationing.

To Make Probe

Rep. Halleck (R) Ind., introduced a resolution for an inquiry into the concentration, standardization and simplification plans of WPB and OPA, warning that only such "cuts" should be made as will "be helpful to the prosecution of the war."

The Indian congressman's resolution particularly was aimed at a WPB order curtailing newsprint consumption by 10 per cent and brought an expression of fears from other members of the house that a plot might be underway to "wreck the press."

Halleck's resolution would, however, enable a broad-scale study of programs to pare down and simplify civilian goods and services because of military demands upon the country's available supplies of manpower, materials and facilties.

"What we need is some coordination of the various agencies to determine: (1) What the civilian needs are, and (2) what the available supplies are, before drastic actions are taken that might be harmful to the civilian economy," Halleck said.

PORT OF HAMBURG IS AGAIN BOMBED

bardment was made on submarine building plants in the Rhineland city of Cologne.

More submarines are produced in the Hamburg yards than at any other place in Germany.

The raid was the 95th of the war against Hamburg. During the 94th last Saturday both 4,000 and 8,000 pound bombs were showered down on the submarine building plants. The attack last night in force was believed to have been carried out similarly.

The night assaults followed daylight raids by Ventura bombers against railway objectives at Abbeville, in Northern France, and the Nazi-held airdrome at St. Omer.

These British bombers were supported in their operations by both British Spitfires and fighter planes of the United States air force. Three German fighters were destroyed during the course of the attacks. An air ministry communique said two Allied bombers and eight fighters were missing as a result of the attacks.

SAYS AMERICAN FOOD IS KEEPING RUSSIA IN WAR

cut to the bone. Black bread is the mainstay, and only the heaviest workers get more than a pound of it a day. Meat is no longer thought of as a regular food, but as an occasional treat."

Nearly all food shipped to Russia, Wickard asserted, "goes right to the soldiers of the red army".

U. S. To Feel Pinch

Pointing out that the armed forces and allies will demand more American food in 1943 than they did last year, Wickard warned that civilians will "feel the pinch".

"I want to tell you frankly that from now on we are going to feel the pinch more than we have in the past," he stated, "as we go on sending food to our allies.

"Obviously," he pointed out, "the civilian population will be even less able than it was in 1942 to get all the foods that it would like to buy and that it would be able to buy."

However, Wickard said, consumers will have "nutritious diets".

The food administrator said that lend-lease is a two-way proposition.

"We are receiving food when that is sound strategy," he pointed out.

The British, Australians and New Zealanders have supplied American expeditionary forces with large quantities of food. However, he said, in Australia and New Zealand "the drain which this lend-lease-in-reverse has put upon their supplies has been much more severe than anything we have yet felt in this country.

"In Australia, civilians have gone almost entirely without potatoes for months in order to feed our soldiers. With other allied troops, we have taken practically all of their pork and canned meats, vegetables and citrus fruits."

"It seems to me," Wickard said, "the plainest kind of common sense to operate in this way, sending food to our fighting allies who need it, drawing food from others of our fighting allies who are in a position to supply it."

February 1932 after 20 years in the ministry spent in Colorado and Western Pennsylvania, he has succeeded in elevating the school to a high standard. Three large additions to the college, two dormitories and a library, have been made during his regime, and until the war took so many young men and women into the war effort, the school had shown a 25 per cent increase in enrollment.

Dr. Galbreath, in accepting the chairmanship, told of the warm feeling he has for the Red Cross, gained at first hand during the World War. While serving at the front in World War One, with the Y. M. C. A. in the capacity of chaplain and war worker, he was gassed, and hospitalization was necessary. During his stay in the hospital, Red Cross nurses took over the task of ministering to the wounded, and when these trained women took over, the effect on the morale of the wounded was magical. It was an experience that he will never forget, Dr. Galbreath states, and he feels in taking the chairmanship of this great drive, he is paying back a little debt he owes the Red Cross for their kindness shown him 25 years ago.

PLAN TO TAX BIG BUSES $100

Various Rates Included In Amendment To Proposed Ordinance

Council met Thursday in the city building but did not adopt the revamped city mercantile ordinance which has caused several discussions during the past month or more.

Since last week an amendment has been added to the bill which in effect, follows:

Vehicle, operating more than one mile outside the city, $1.00 mercantile tax, annually.

Vehicle operating within the city and not more than one mile outside the city carrying five or less passengers including the operator and attendants, $10.00, annually.

Vehicles operating within the city and not more than one mile outside and capable of seating five and less than 20, including the operator and attendants, $25.00, annually.

Vehicles carrying passengers within the city and to a point not more than one mile outside seating more than 20 passengers including the operator and attendants, $100.00, annually.

Another amendment requires a firm doing both retail and wholesale business to pay a tax on each business.

This has been in effect heretofore but the wording of the present ordinance reportedly gave one firm an opportunity to object and pay on only the retail business, hence a clean cut amendment was tacked on the proposed measure.

AMERICAN AND JAP SEA FORCES NEAR SHOWDOWN

suffered losses which have not yet been revealed by the American navy.

Navy men still maintained that Japanese claims they had sunk two U. S. battleships and three cruisers were "grossly exaggerated." While not confirmed in Washington, the Japanese contended the battle began a week ago.

Moving Cautiously

Action to date indicates that the Japanese high command is moving cautiously in the current series of engagements to prevent repetition of the defeat they suffered when three separate armadas were crushed off Guadalcanal in November.

Meanwhile on Guadalcanal, American ground troops continued their advance against the isolated Japanese forces and in the latest thrust moved to within one and one-half miles of Tassafaronga, 10 miles west of Henderson airfield.

Tassafaronga is another point on the northern coast of Guadalcanal where Japanese landed troops and reinforcements early in the Solomons campaign. Capture of this point by U. S. forces would leave the Japs only Cape Esperance for such activity.

Barring a major American defeat at sea, navy men still contend that U. S. forces are in an excellent position to smash further Japanese efforts to retake the southern Solomons, which the enemy lost to marines last August.

MARKED REDUCTION IN SHIP LOSSES ON ROUTE TO RUSSIA

of Nazi forces at Stalingrad is "one of the worst defeats ever suffered by Germany," Stimson emphasized that a "striking feature" of the Russian success was Germany's lack of air power.

He said that much German air support had undoubtedly been diverted to the Mediterranean and home front to combat RAF and American air force opposition, but added that Germany "still has enough planes to provide for formidable air support."

Stimson said that Germany's lack of air power may bring additional defeats, but cited as possible reasons for its lack of air opposition the probable loss in airplane output, reduced supplies of gasoline or the "husbanding of airplanes for some offensive not yet disclosed."

Use Tripoli Airfields

In his weekly war review, Stimson said the U. S. air forces in North Africa are now using airfields in Tripoli for "round the clock attacks on Sicily and Italy." He added that the ratio of airplane losses is now two to one in favor of the allies.

Asserting that the ground fighting in Tunisia remains a "stalemate", Stimson declared that throughout North Africa there is "almost perfect coordination of allied land, sea and air forces."

Stimson said that "on the whole the military situation remains favorable but as yet there are no grounds for optimism."

the approaches to Tunisia, the Middle East high command announced today.

Allied air forces meanwhile continued relentless attacks against Axis shipping off the Tunisian coast, destroying at least four small vessels.

A direct hit was scored on an enemy tanker by torpedo aircraft off the south coast of Italy. The ship developed a heavy list and had to be beached.

Heavy Allied bombers hit a motor vessel in the harbor of Messina, Sicily. Shipping in the port of Palermo also was attacked.

Points in southeast Sicily also were blasted from the air. Hits were scored on warehouses and resultant fires broke out.

One Pound Coffee Every Six Weeks

OPA Ruling Cuts Coffee Ration; Next Stamp Good Feb. 8-March 21

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Coffee rations were cut in an order by the Office of Price Administration on Wednesday from one pound per person every five weeks to one pound every six weeks. The reason for the action is the reduction of coffee inventories in the hands of wholesalers and retailers.

Stamp No. 25, in War Ration Book No. 1, will be valid February 8 for the purchase of one pound of coffee through midnight, March 21.

OPA officials said that the increased military shipping needs and the necessity for giving priority on transportation to strategic war materials were causes for the reduced inventories for the next ration period.

Consumers were urged to spread their ration stamps over the six-weeks period, if they are buying for family use, instead of buying all their coffee at one time.

other inhabited locality after stubborn fighting. Substantial booty was seized, the high command said.

A force of 300 was taken prisoner when the Russians intercepted and repelled several attacks against the approaches to one inhabited locality.

The Germans fleeing before the advancing Soviets in the Caucasus were withdrawing in the direction of the Black sea port of Novorossisk and the Kerch peninsula in preparation for evacuation to the Crimea.

The Soviet midnight communique reported capture of two more important rail points south of Rostov which severed the rail line from Krasnodar and closed the last road of retreat to Rostov for the Axis forces trapped in the Caucasus.

(London dispatches today estimated Axis forces surrounded in the Caucasus at from 70,000 to 250,000. The Daily Express, in an undated dispatch, reported that five German divisions had fled to the Kerch peninsula and were attempting to cross the narrow strait to the Crimea.

And for quick, blessed relief, you'll say it is truly wonderful. It has a remarkable action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

STEWART DIAMOND

IT TURNED A MAN'S MIND

Of all the goliaths in stones to come out of South Africa, The Stewart is perhaps the most famous river stone. The rough diamond, weighing 296 carats, was found at Waldeck's plant on the Vaal River in 1872. The finder went out of his mind for three days, and could do nothing but laugh and cry, tossing the stone up in the air and catching it again like a child. It was reduced to a beautiful brilliant of 123 carats, and is now owned in England.

AID FOR FRENCH IN NORTH AFRICA

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S disclosure at his special press conference this week that the American and British governments are going to speed modern weapons to North Africa for a French force of 250,000, under General Giraud, offers concrete hope that Allied lines in the Tunisian area are to be greatly strengthened.

Axis forces have been jabbing with some success at the French sectors of the North African front. General Giraud has complained pointedly that America and Britain haven't provided sufficient arms and other war supplies to bolster the French positions.

The President is entirely right in holding that the North African situation should be considered on a military rather than a political basis. The first requirement is to win the war. To that end the forces of both General Giraud and General de Gaulle are vitally needed. Whatever the political differences between these two French leaders, the time for politics is after the war is won, not before.

GARDENING TECHNIQUE

More gardens will dot the backyards and other vistas of landscape of America this summer than in any year since 1918, when Victory gardens were planted with a vengeance but the crop yield was nothing to brag about. The vegetables could not be induced to cooperate, it seemed.

The volume of instruction and advice being released by the department of agriculture may aid in achieving better results this time. The would-be gardener who has never gone in for this sort of thing can learn anything that can be imparted in print about the art of growing vegetables. Professionals assert though that they learned more by years of experience than by reading.

It might be advisable, after reading the bulletins, to consult an old-time gardener about the problems of a vegetable gardener. It will be found to be time well spent. Somehow the boys with the experience always seem to succeed in coaxing bigger tomatoes, radishes, beans or what have you out of the earth than the city fellows who are adept at slinging words.

NEW WHEAT OUTLET

How much grain for industrial alcohol will figure in the post-war period can not be accurately predicted, but the diversion of grain into alcohol during this war will certainly contribute heavily toward the elimination of wheat and corn surpluses.

This corroborated in the statement of Dr. W. G. Whitman of the chemicals branch of the WPB to the Senate synthetic rubber investigating committee. Doctor Whitman estimated that 100,000,000 bushels of grain will go into alcohol this year and 200,000,000 bushels next year. The 1944 figure will make 300,000,000 gallons of alcohol for use in synthetic rubber production.

At the outset corn was considerably ahead of wheat as a source of grain alcohol. Recent experiments have resulted in processes that make wheat just as satisfactory and now it is rivaling corn as a source.

There was a greater surplus of wheat than of corn and probably the distillers will draw more heavily upon that cereal, leaving corn for feed. America's wheat supply, at one time estimated as an extra year's supply, is destined to dwindle rapidly.

NO FALSE HOPES ABOUT TAXES

The chairman of Senate and House revenue committees have found it necessary to warn the public that income tax returns must be filed by March 15 and "at least the first quarter's tax" paid, irrespective of any possible Ruml plan legislation for collecting income taxes at the source. No matter how swiftly its members may proceed Congress cannot possibly pass new legislation for a pay-as-you-go income tax will eliminate the need for filing regular tax returns in March.

The taxpaying citizen should be warned also on another point. The Ruml plan, or any kindred innovation in the income tax field, is not going to lighten the tax burden. It may cancel the payments due on 1942 income, in effect if not in theory. But it will increase the actual sums which the citizens must pay in direct taxes on income. The burden will be higher, not lower, and the only relief, if any, will be relief from making extremely large payments at quarterly periods—after next March 15.

The fundamental principle of the Ruml plan is simple. One would pay the tax on his income each week or fortnight or month, by deduction from his salary or wages, instead of paying in the following year. But to draft a statute embodying this principle is a fearful and wonderful assignment for any congressional committee or any body of treasury experts. There are many individuals who do not receive salaries or wages, but who have substantial incomes. Provision must be made for them.

There is also the question of allowing for deductions and exemptions when collecting it at the source. To place this burden on employers would be unjust and unworkable. Yet if the widely varying exemptions and deductions are eliminated, the income tax would become a grossly inequitable form of taxation. With such complexities ahead, Congress has very properly warned the taxpayer against the false hope that he need not file a return on March 15.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ONLY CHILD FACES PROBLEMS

You and I know some very likable persons who were only children. No doubt they found ways to learn to share with other children and to play with them. All else being equal, however, the only child may be greatly handicapped. Normally he does not have the opportunities for sharing and making sacrifices which children with brothers and sisters have. More often than not, he may rank among those who are selfish, timid and lonely.

Many teachers insist they are sure they can easily spot the only child at school. Furthermore, parents of the only child may not gain so much in spiritual and personality values from rearing one child as from rearing several.

Many young couples with only one child, who can have no more, or are medically advised by doctors to have no more, are adopting or serving as foster parents to one or more children.

Right now there is a surplus of children available for foster homes and many of these children must be placed or left in institutions, since many wives or mothers who otherwise would be available as foster mothers are working. If the crop of "war" babies keeps growing the supply of babies and young children for adoption may soon overtake the demand.

The World and the Mud Puddles

WISE MEN WANTED.

One of the first requisites of sound post-war planning is sound taxation. Our Federal tax policy should be directed toward two objectives: First, paying for the war; second, maintaining a financially strong industrial structure. Industry should be encouraged to build reserves to meet the inevitable and gigantic costs of reconversion to peacetime needs. Unless this is done, plans for the future, both of government and industry, will be doomed to failure. Industry will be hampered in its efforts to encourage full employment, and collect needed tax revenues.

The Depression consumed practically all of industry's cash reserves. Unwise tax laws, and misguided social reforms have prevented the re-accumulation of reserves.

Industry has shown during the past year that it has the imagination and capacity to respond when our national existence is threatened. Never has the world seen our equal in military production—thanks to industry. And now with the problems of peace arising, it will again be up to industry to work a miracle. Millions of persons must be shifted from war jobs to peace jobs. Industry must supply the jobs. It must produce as never before, or this country will face state socialism, the very thing the war has fought to prevent.

When peace comes, industry must have the cash reserves to remodel factories, to fashion a better civilization. If taxes take all the profits, there will be no reserves.

The first problem of Congress in 1943 is taxes. In the wise solution of that problem will lie the success of plans for peace.

THE IMPORTANCE OF A BUDGET

The general consensus among wives of my acquaintance is that the chief cause of marital discord is the refusal of a husband to give his wife a regular allowance. The husband who does not thus enable his wife to budget the household expenses generally nags her when the food and other supply bills come in. Lack of such financial organization results in an uncertainty that seriously undermines the nervous system of both domestic partners.

Wives without regular allowances are like ships without compasses. Not knowing what they should spend, they have little opportunity to save, but very big opportunities for domestic arguments leading to the divorce court. Therefore, every girl considering a proposal of matrimony should, before entering into such an alliance, come to an understanding as to just how the domestic budget is to be maintained. She owes this precaution not only to herself but to her husband because those who wish health, happiness and contentment during married life must live within their means. And such a consummation will be impossible unless the wife—the rightful purchasing agent of the family—has a regular budget to keep balanced.

International Congress Is Proposed
Washington Leaders Discussing Idea
Obstacles Loom For Permanent Plans

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—Establishment of the United Nations on a basis of post-war permanency is considerably discussed in both legislative and executive Washington; maybe by the judiciary also.

Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota did not exactly originate the idea; it had been suggested before he came out in its favor. He has gone into it in detail, however. Originally it was just a hazy kind of concept. He has given it materiality; has made it a subject for serious consideration. Now he is its outstanding missionary. He proposes an international congress and executive council.

It is a concrete plan, as Stassen outlines it.

The problem is:

How about axis acquiescence?

To be sure, the Axis is to be licked into unconditional surrender, as agreed on recently by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill at Casablanca.

That they will come into the Union in good faith and voluntarily is more than unlikely. They will be blackjacked in, if at all, and that they ever will prove to have been sincere joiners is extremely improbable.

Governor Stassen doesn't plan to admit them immediately.

They will need to be reformed preliminarily, he agrees.

This ought to be easy enough with Italy; it simply got, accidentally, into bad company, and may be glad to get out of it. Germany has a suspiciously undesirable past record. Japan is suspect as a temperamental case.

Governor Stassen recognizes that those nationalities will have to be "policed" indefinitely on into futurity—Italy only temporarily. Germany for quite a spell, and Japan, perhaps, forever.

The union of nations would not be very satisfactory, though, with Germany yanked in by the hair of its head and Japan everlastingly a dissenter.

It may mean that the United Nations can keep the others in subjection, but that would not be the all-around peace we think we are scrapping for. And yet, how can it be a world-union unless they are included?

The Italians are a fluke set-up, due to Mussolini.

The Germans are pretty chronic,

Item: To district attention from President Roosevelt in Morocco, secret service men pointed upward and cried "look!" or did fake falls out of a jeep.

Q. Now tell us exactly what happened Mr. Doe.

A. Well I see this car coming along with six guys on the running board and I wonder what's up, so naturally I stop for a gander.

Q. What happened?

A. Well they all begin yelling "look!" and pointing up in the air.

Q. So?

A. So I look up and don't see nothin'!

Q. What did you do then?

A. Well I figure there's something squirrely here and I step out to the curb . . . by this time the car is stopped for a light.

Q. Then what happened?

A. Well the minute I step out to the curb, the guys begin fallin' off the running board. One of 'em lands on his hands and walks off down the street that way. Another is doing cartwheels. Another falls on his back, raises his legs in the air and the first thing I know he's tumbling another guy on his feet like the Japs used to do with barrels in the circus.

Q. What did you think?

A. Well of course I figure it's a gag of some kind but I don't get it.

Q. What finally happened?

A. Well the light changes, all the guys run back and climb on the running board . . .

Q. And you saw the car go off?

A. Well no I didn't. After they go back on the running board they all yelled "look!" and pointed up in the air.

Q. You looked up in the air again and didn't see anything?

A. That's right . . . and when I looked down the car was gone.

Q. Thank you very much Mr Doe. Next witness please.

Trap For Republicans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.

THE ADMINISTRATION politicians are proceeding on the assumption that, politically, the Republican leadership in Congress is foolish, and, itself, can be depended upon to nullify the advantage which the November elections have given its party. Perhaps they are right about that and within a short while the Republican attack will be of such character as to rob their 1944 prospects of their present charm.

CERTAINLY, IT requires no particular discernment to see one of the pitfalls into which the rejuvenated and strengthened Republicans may easily fall. It is easy, too, to grasp the fact that the clever Administration politicians are silently praying that they will do exactly that. They hardly can wait for the thing to happen. What the coldly practical fellows among the New Deal strategists hope is that the Republicans as a party, or, anyhow, the bulk of them, will become responsible for the repudiation of the reciprocal trade treaties which come up for Congressional approval within a very short time.

THESE ARE the treaties with which for 10 years Secretary of State Cordell Hull steadfastly has tried to break down the tariff barriers that blocked the international channels, and open up a clear and unrestricted flow of trade between nations. Against opposition (or, anyhow, lukewarmness) inside the Administration as well as outside, with undeviating persistence he achieved a remarkable degree of success. The strength of his ideas and his quiet courage in fighting for them have made him the outstanding member of the Roosevelt Cabinet and rendered him immune to the sniping from the inside as well as the outside, to which he is constantly subjected. Recent bitter criticism of his North African policies, which were fully approved by the President, has been singularly ineffective in shaking confidence in either his integrity or his wisdom.

THOUGH THE New Dealers do not list them as such, these reciprocal trade treaties rank as the most wholesome and far-reaching achievement of the Roosevelt regime. They constitute the one expression of international co-operation during the years when the Administration was as isolationist in

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

Now I'll tell you why you haven't been lucky with the horse races (provided you bet on the horses, which you shouldn't but some people do).

The reason is that you don't know the difference between "selection" and "tip."

This was brought out in court when the publishers of several racing sheets were asked to show why they shouldn't be put out of business.

You see, betting on horses is a science.

If you master the science of horse betting you'll probably lose your shirt anyway, but you'll lose it scientifically, which is much more gentlemanly, of course.

The science of horse-betting, said the horse publishers, is based on "selection."

You study the horse's records, his social background, his dietary habits, his moral and political history and then you publish a scientific recommendation or warning.

Even in science, though, there is only one way a horse can win, while there are fifty or a hundred ways of losing.

That is why horse publishers, bookmakers, touts and jockeys very seldom bet.

A "tip" on the other hand is when your cleaning woman tells you that her uncle got it straight from his bartender who keeps company with a jockey's sister-in-law, that "Better Late Than Never" is going to win the fifth race at Hohokus tomorrow as sure as you live.

To be doubly sure, you buy a scientific racing sheet and discover that both the tip and the selection agree on "Better Late Than Never."

So you bet your two dollars and "Better Late Than Never" comes in last, proving that the only sure way to win is not to bet at all.

I understand that selecting horses to win may soon be made a college course, with the degree of DES, meaning Doctor of Equine Science and not Dumb Easy Sucker.

As soon as details on this new course are available I shall be glad to send them to you upon request.

In the meantime I advise you not to bet on the horses at all.

(Unless you have a really good tip or selection, in which case I'd appreciate it if you'd send it on to me. But, please, don't tell my wife.)

Martin To Ask Relief Budget Cut $33,000,000

May Represent Lowest Estimated Expenditure For Public Assistance In Decade

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The general assembly will be asked to appropriate $33,000,000 less for relief during the next two years, it was disclosed on Wednesday by Gov. Edward Martin.

The chief executive revealed that the relief budget for the 1943-45 biennium, beginning June 1, will be $88,500,000, compared to $121,000,000 for the two-year period ending May 31. The administration's biennial budget will be presented to the legislature later this month for its consideration.

It is believed to represent the lowest estimated expenditure of state funds for relief in almost a decade. At one time, at the height of the depression, more than $200,000,000 was spent for public assistance.

County Relief Question

Governor Martin said he did not know how much could be saved by returning the administration of direct relief to the counties, a plan which he has recommended to the legislature. He added, however, that he felt that the administrative costs of distributing relief could be reduced if the department of public assistance were abolished and its duties transferred to the department of welfare. Legislation will soon be introduced in the legislature to carry into effect these administration proposals.

The chief executive said he had no comment to make on the bills introduced in the upper house by Sen. George Woodward (R) Philadelphia restricting labor unions and transferring control over hundreds of mercantile tax appraisers and inheritance tax collectors from the Democratic-controlled auditor general's department to the Republican-dominated department of revenue.

Asked to comment on the "war work or fight" order issued by Paul V. McNutt, chief of the war manpower commission, the governor asserted: "It isn't as bad as it was in the war between the states".

The four fading flamingos were gifts to the zoo from Miami's Hialeah race track.

HEART TROUBLE

One of the conditions which cause trouble for the heart is damage to the valves.

The heart is like a complicated pump. It works something like a rubber bulb. When it contracts or squeezes itself, the blood is forced through the openings into the vessels. At each opening is a valve which prevents the blood from flowing back again.

Sometimes these valves are damaged by disease. This may cause the openings to be puckered and not allow the blood to flow through freely; or the valves may be defective and allow a back flow when the pressure is released. These two conditions cause the heart to work harder than it should.

This extra work eventually tires the heart. It begins to beat too fast. It may beat irregularly. After a while the circulation shows signs of failure. Shortness of breath occurs. Going up stairs causes difficult breathing. Perhaps the ankles swell a little towards night.

When these symptoms occur it is a good idea to consult a physician who will figure out the state of affairs and the necessary treatment.

In such conditions it is usually necessary to have medical supervision at regular intervals for a long time. The damaged valves do not return to normal. Proper treatment usually restores health and comfort. It prevents the disabling results which usually happen from neglect.

Jesus Affirms His Deity

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

The crucifixion

"He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father."—John 14:9.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 7 is John 8:12-59, the Golden Text being John 14:9, 'He that hath sent Me hath seen the Father.")

"I am the light of the world," said Jesus to those gathered around Him. "He that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

The Pharisees were scornful. "Thou bearest record of thyself," said they; "the record is not true."

Jesus answered, "Though I bear record of myself, yet My record is true; for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go. Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man. And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, and I and the Father that sent Me."

Also to this accusation Jesus said, "It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true. I am one that bear witness of Myself, and the Father that sent Me beareth witness of me."

Where Is Thy Father?

"Where is Thy Father?" they asked, showing that they knew not what Jesus was talking about. "Ye neither know me, nor My Father," He said to them.

Giving these stiff necked churchmen up as a bad job, there being no use arguing with men who would not understand because of obstinacy, Jesus said to them, "I go My way, and ye shall seek Me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come."

The Jews thought, or pretended to think, that Jesus meant that He would kill Himself. In their law suicide was as bad as murder, and those who committed it would go to the darkest regions of the nether world.

Later Jesus told them, "When ye have lifted up the Son of Man, then shall ye know that I am He, and that I do nothing of Myself, but as my Father hath taught Me, I speak these things."

Jesus Anticipates His Death

He meant by this, when they had crucified Him, for well He knew that that was what they meant to do. They would not see that He was the Messiah for whom they had been looking; the Christ that was to save them. They were angry with and jealous of the fact that the common people listened to Him and loved him for Himself and for the good He did. He did God's will as He said, "The Father hath not left Me alone; for I do always those things that please Him."

When He spoke these words, many believed on Him, and He said to them, "If ye continue in My word, then are ye My disciples indeed; And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

How free? they asked; "We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest Thou, Ye shall be free?"

That was a very odd statement to come from the Jews who had been continually in bondage to one peoples or another for generations. They were under the rule of Rome at the time they were speaking.

"If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham; but now ye seek to kill Me, a Man that hath told you the truth which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham."

And further He told them, "If God were your Father, ye would love Me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of Myself, but He sent me. Why do ye not understand My speech?"

Pharisees Call Names

Not being able to best the Lord in argument, the Jews resorted to name calling—always a proof that one is worsted. They called Him a Samaritan and said He had a devil. Jesus denied the devil and was not impressed with the statement that He was a Samaritan, as He knew that Samaritans might be as good, or even better, than Jews. He told them that in all that He did He honored the Father, and that "if a man keep My sayings, he shall never see death." Abraham, He stated, "rejoiced to see My Day."

Then they said they knew that He was not 50 years old, and Abraham had been dead for a long time. How, then, could He know him? And Jesus answered quietly, "Before Abraham was, I am." When they heard these words they argued no longer, but started to pick up stones to hurl at Him. But Jesus slipped away and hid, "for His time was not yet come."

These men who would have stoned Him and did crucify Him, where are they? Gone long since and their names forgotten. But the One they reviled and did to death is known all over the world. Men pray to Him and believe in Him and try to walk in His footsteps—in the Light of the World.

The Great Game Of Politics

its color as any we have had. If, now, these treaties should be repudiated, it would be a disastrous backward step toward the old high-tariff protection system for which there would be neither defense nor excuse.

THIS CAN happen only if the Republicans cast the bulk of their votes against them. It is true they are not in a majority, but there is enough inertia among Administration Democrats to permit the Republicans to create a majority on this issue. If that happens, the Republicans will be branded again as the isolation party. All their committee resolutions and public proclamations favoring international cooperation will be nullified and as a party they will be put on the defensive—and deserve to be.

IT IS not too much to say that Administration politicians, who, themselves, have cared little about the Hull treaties, are eager to see this happen. It is not too much to say that various Administration journalists are already laying the foundation for the attack. It is almost incredible that the Republicans should fall into this trap. Their leaders must know that any form of isolationism is now abhorrent to the majority of the American people; that to become identified now with isolationism is to be identified with a dead issue.

SMART REPUBLICAN politics would be to seize the lead in urging endorsement and extension of these treaties. That would accomplish three things—first, it would frustrate and disappoint the New Deal politicians; second, it would stamp the recent Republican party professions with sincerity and, measurably, at least, free it from the taint of reactionism; third, it would contribute to the health of our own country and of the world. The last ought to be enough—but, in politics, there are always other considerations.

good for their own child and themselves while rendering a highly patriotic service, if they were to care for a child or so about the age of their own child during the period before and after school while the mothers are away from home working. In every community where many mothers, especially of school-age children, work, some organization should be busy enlisting mothers, patricularly mothers of only children, for this service.

In most cases, the working mother should be glad to pay a small fee for this service. Many mothers of only children also would be glad of the opportunity to afford a better home educationn for their own child.

Also the mother of two, three or four children, very skillful in her home management and that of her children, might be ready and available for this very useful service.

Help Whole Community

Unless many mothers who don't work provide necessary care and protection of the neighbor children whose mothers do work, these non-working mothers are soon going to find their own children surrounded by numerous children who are not very wholesome playmates, and a jump in juvenile delinquency will be inevitable.

We parents need to remember that we cannot do best for our community and our own children by ostracizing other children in the neighborhood who lack proper home care and protection. We must do our utmost to set the stage so that practically all the children on our block and the next will be fit playmates for our children. Anyway, when we tell our child of 3 or 10 that a certain other child of the block is not good enough to play with him, we usually do harm to our child and build up for ourselves and him all sorts of annoyances from the "forbidden" child.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. You often urge us to teach the young child the meaning of NO. Do you have a special bulletin showing us just how to do this?

A. Yes; to be had without cost by writing me at 234 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Q. My boy of nine has the habit of twitching his nose and spreading his lips. He eats fast, gulps his food down and, while eating, will twist his nose. It's so irritating that I'm a bundle of nerves and sometimes I have to cry as I suffer from indigestion over him. Please help me. A self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed.

A. You hardly can help that lad by nagging at him about his nose-twitching or way of eating. You can help him most by working on yourself so as to be more calm and provide him with a serene and happy family atmosphere and make him feel he is a worthwhile person. I trust you will find some assistance from the two bulletins of mine enclosed—"Nervous Habits in Children," and "Nervous, Jittery Mothers".

with their kaisers and Hitlers. They have a nice element of folk, but it does not seem to be predominant.

The Japs are queerer. Their rank-and-file is o. k., but it is bossed by its dotty military class to such an extent that it is like reckoning with a lunatic asylum.

Now another schedule is being booster for, for the benefit of the Axis-overrun or would-be neutral countries. What will they get out of the final settlement?

Maybe a unionized agreement will consolidate them.

It is conceded that an amalgamation will be decidedly complicated.

Truly old-line democratic countries, like the United States, Britain, France, Italy, the little pewee European groups, the Latin Americans, Spain and Portugal will be easy enough to get together. Also China.

But how about the little countries' respective representations? There may be jealousies.

Their united congress may be possible to agree on, with numerical representation. But the presidency?

Sentiment will figure among other considerations.

How would we like to have a South American world president?

This is something like what Governor Stassen envisions.

It is a possibility, anyhow.

That is, it is logical on the Stassen basis.

The governor's story is that our northern and southern states got together after the Civil war and that now, the same stunt is a possibility on a world-wide basis.

Stassen wants to make it a national policy.

He is becoming a national character.

You hear about him presidentially.

Only—

Harold wants to be a WORLD president.

The highest temperature was 59 degrees on the 25th and the lowest was 4 above zero on the 13th and 20th days of the month. Ladies of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps will receive recognition next week when WAAC Week is observed throughout the western Pennsylvania district, sponsored by the Association of Business Women's clubs and the WAAC recruiting office at Pittsburgh. The project is limited to western Pennsylvania, where it originated, but no doubt will find a national response.

WAAC application blanks are available at the local Army recruiting station in the Post Office building. Recruiting Sergeant John T. Bilpuch announces.

Mean Thief Steals Pennies Given For Naval Relief Here

Glass Bank Wired To Table In Bond Booth Removed With Wire Cutters

Every now and then a super meanest thief is discovered, the latest being the ones who stole a glass bank filled with pennies, which had been contributed by local citizens for navy relief.

The bank had been placed on a table in the front of the G. C. Murphy store, on East Washington street, where ladies of the V.F.W. sell bonds and stamps to aid Uncle Sam's war effort. Citizens were urged to give their pennies to this fund, in the neighborhood of $20 per month being realized in this manner.

Tuesday afternoon of this week, while the ladies were absent from the booth between 5 and 5:30 o'clock, someone cut the bank loose with wire cutters and made off with the contents.

Poetry Group Studies Technique Of Poetry

Poetry Group met at the public library Tuesday evening for its monthly study session and reading of original poems.

Announcement was made that one of the members, Mae Wilson, is a contributor to the current issue of the "Country Bard". Also in the same issue is a poem by Grace Long, who is a member both of the local group and of the Canton, Ohio, chapter of the Ohio Poetry society.

Mrs. Carroll Loupe Fisher continued with an analysis of the "Technique of Poetry" at the meeting. "Irregularity in Poetry" was the subject of Mrs. George Henderson. A number of original poems in free verse and modulated verse were contributed.

Next meeting will be March 2.

Education For Democracy

(Contributed)

"In the alley there was daily strife. Seven or eight nationalities were trying to live together without having learned how. Silent contempt and suspicion changed often to noisy beratings, for they could no more comprehend each other's view-points than they could pronounce each other's names.

Now there was a kindergarten in this alley. Every morning the large, cheerful room was crowded with the little sons and daughters of this heterogeneous population, but here discord was reduced to a minimum. The children played and sang together like one happy family. They smiled ingratiatingly at one another. They helped each other in their little tasks, showing genuine sympathy when one met with a difficulty. They learned each other's names too. It was really hard to be cross."

The child who goes to knidergarten learns to understand differences in other children as easily and naturally as he understands differences in flowers, fruits and animals. He is not, at this age seriously concerned with superficial distinctions, and in kindergarten he forms the habit of judging and criticizing kindly, and of admring all that is pleasing, while nevertheless, making his own individual choices.

Our country needs men and women who understand its heterogeneous population. Children should become acquainted with their fellow travellers under the wise supervision of the kindergartner.

Sixteen different nationalities are represented in the Lincoln-Garfield grade school of New Castle, eight nationalities in both the Pollock and the West Side schools, and Italian children constitute over fifty per cent of the enrollment in Mahoningtown, which is included in the New Castle school district.

Little children do not know liberty by name, yet daily they work and play in her presence. She gives them a chance to express their thoughts, to make choices and to carry out their plans, and they very soon learn that these privileges must be shared equally or they will disappear.

Many men and women cannot understand this; they try to monopolize liberty. It is hard to convince them that this is a mistake because our way of thinking about such things is formed when we are very young. As children they thought too little about the comfort of other people, and now they believe that liberty gives them the right to do as they please without considering their fellow citizens. It is a great pity.

In kindergarten, it is so easy to learn the ways of a democracy and to understand that liberty can supply us with her treasures only as long as we share them with others.

Local Office Plans Streamline Methods

War Manpower Commission Offers Training Course To Social Security Staff

Local office of the social security board and bureau of old age and survivors insurance, in line with other governmental agencies, in an endeavor to heed President Roosevelt's request that bureaus streamline their office procedure and eliminate to the fullest possible extent unnecessary office red-tape has already done much to reduce its office procedure to an efficient minimum, but a further step in this direction will come soon, A. L Fath, local manager, announced today.

February 8 through February 10, a district course of instruction in Job Methods Training, in Erie, Pa., will be attended by managers and personnel of the district boards as part of a war manpower plan to prepare local offices to carry on an increased amount of work with decreased staffs with the greatest possible efficiency.

Manager Fath and Miss Emma Painter, of the social security board office, will be among those who will attend the course in Erie.

Gas Masks Soon To Arrive For Allegheny County

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 4. — The Allegheny County council of defense planned today to distribute a shipment of 15,000 gas masks late this month simultaneously with inauguration of a course on instructions for each recipient.

Chairman Ross L. Leffler said the masks would be given to air raid wardens, police and firemen and auxiliaries, key industrial workers and others whose duties may require them to be outside during an enemy attack.

Every recipient of the masks will be required to take a three-hour course, which will include a gas-chamber exercise using tear gas, it was disclosed.

Your Federal Income Tax

No. 28
MISCELLANEOUS INCOME

The Federal income tax return Form 1040, used by individuals, is designed to show, by separate entries, the various kinds of income most commonly found. Income from miscellaneous sources, including the net profit (or loss) from partnerships, fiduciary income, and other income, is shown in item 10 of the return form.

Where an individual is engaged in business or profession in partnership with others, a partnership return (Form 1065) must be filed for the partnership. This return is filed for information purposes only, as partnerships are not subject to income tax as such, but the amount of net income (or loss) from the partnership is reported in the returns of the individual members of the partnership according to their shares. This net income (or loss) is shown in item 10 and an explanation with reference to the partnership, must be shown in Schedule I of the return.

In the case of trust funds set up for beneficiaries, an income tax return (Form 1041) is required to be filed by the trustee or fiduciary; the distributable portion of income is, however, nontaxable to the fiduciary, but must be reported in the individual income tax return of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, together with an explanation (in Schedule I) of the source. Such beneficial income received under a trust would be shown in item 10 of the return.

Other income to be reported in item 10 might arise from incidental transactions, apart from the taxpayer's regular business or profession; but gains or losses from the sales of securities would be reported in item 8 (unless the taxpayer is a security dealer, in which case the results of the business are reported in item 9.)

In item 10 also would be included any income from gambling or other like winnings. Winnings from gambling, whatever the source of character, must, of course, be reported by the taxpayer; he is allowed, however, to deduct any gambling losses incurred during the year up to an amount equal to the winnings. A net loss from gambling is not an allowable deduction.

Anniversary Of Kiwanis Observed

Past Lieut. Gov. Thomas L. Paden Gives History Of Kiwanis International

New Castle Kiwanis club members observed the 28th anniversary of Kiwanis International, and the founding of the local club, at their luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday noon.

Thomas L. Paden, past president and past lieutenant governor gave an interesting history of the organization, which was founded in 1915 and which has grown to 22,000 clubs with a membership of 112,000 men in this brief span.

Seated at the speaker's table were the charter members of the club, James Mayberry, Fred C. Wolford, H. L. Marvin, L. C. Mantz, Robert L. Wallace, R. L. Meermans, and Dan Reeble. With the exception of Mr. Mantz, who has been secretary since the club was founded, with the exception of one year, and R. L. Meermans, who has been treasurer for all but two years, all those honored are past presidents of the club.

A letter from the New Castle kindergarten campaign committee was read, but no action was taken on the matter by the club.

Over Half Of Navy Cadet Group Soloes

Service Program Underway At Wilson Flying School And Westminster College

Over half the group of 30 Navy cadets currently assigned for training to Wilson Flying school at the New Castle airport have soloed while completing 35 hours of flying time in light trainers.

Originally known as the civil pilot training program, the program under which the cadets are being trained at the flying field and Westminster college is now called the war service training program, and is progressing rapidly.

The cadets, on active status, live at Westminster college, where they receive instruction in military courtesy and discipline, ground school and drill.

Half the group of 30 spend mornings at the Wilson Flying school, getting in their hours of flying time; the other half spend the afternoons at the field.

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

How old is old?

Where does age begin?

Aging starts before birth and is continuous until death.

Aging is part of living.

Many persons are physically older than their elapsed years.

Others are younger than their chronologic age.

Physical problems peculiar to old age start at about 40 years.

All persons over 40 are not decrepit and infirm.

After 40, insidious changes occur which lead to senility.

Degenerative diseases are more frequent at this time of life.

Industry needs the older workers, experienced and skillful.

Medical guidance can prevent, retard and control many diseases.

B. & L. E. Takes No Action Resuming Passenger Service

(Special To The News)

BUTLER, Feb. 4.—Although ordered over a week ago by a decision of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to restore passenger service between North Bessemer and Greenville, via Butler, the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad has taken no action to put the train back into commission. It is believed war transportation conditions are causing the delay and perhaps the reversal of the P. U. C. decision.

After the petitions of scores of firms and persons had been presented to the commission on the day the train made its "last" run, January 25, a brief hearing was held and the request granted. Service was ordered restored within 24 hours.

Bundles For America Workers Hear Of Results

Bundles for America, Inc., welcomed a speaker at the meeting held in the Coral Lounge of The Castleton Wednesday afternoon, Lieut. M. O. Brock, Special Service Officer for Shenango Replacement Center, Transfer, Pa. A large audience of workers, members and prospective workers, were in attendance and he detailed reports of committees showing excellent strides of the organization, formed July 9, 1942.

Introduced by Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, president and organizer, Lieut. Brock gave to New Castle citizens, a message of deep gratitude and appreciation for the superb results in Bundles furnishing the first five camp day rooms. Having sung the praises of Mrs. Johnsons' leadership and her corps of women aiding, Lieut. Brock stated that New Castle Bundles has proven a shining inspiration. Others in surrounding vicinities are falling in line.

New Castle has offered to furnish fifteen more rooms, which can be accomplished through the generousity of residents here. Various groups and individuals with their gifts of money, will figure largely in this undertaking.

"Bundles for America" is the clothes closet of the world. Already the local organization has aided soldiers families with clothing, bedding and layettes. Investigators of the Public Department of Assistance, Misses J. Wilson and Betty Gray gave reports of their many calls.

Other calls for emergency clothing have been answered. To New York Headquarters, 1,800 garments were sent and 210 calls locally were cared for. Also, 158 garments for shipwrecked sailors in Miami, Fla., were donated. A special letter of appreciation from Marjorie Dean, Shop Manager of Miami, was read.

Mrs. P. Furst reported on the making of layettes by Junior Bundles for America, and told of 1943 plans.

Mrs. Johnson, recently returned from Orlando, Fla., where her daughter-in-law is doing an excellent job with Bundles, brought helpful hints that will aid here. An open discussion ensued.

Reports given are summerized as follows: Miss Beulah Norris, treasurer, stated the sum of $1229.00 has been received for camp; $1975.68 has been realized from individual and group donations, sales and benefits. Out of this, expenses have been taken for operating Bundles for America.

Mrs. Harry Barkby reported the sum of $1029.88 has been realized through the sale of pictures painted by Winifred Johnson, the Polish International Church benefit party, the St. Phillips-James church sale of flowers lectures, American Legion Port No. 343, concert by Sue Harvard, and rummage sales by Victory Women. Mrs. Edwina Rappold reported for the knitting committee, garments complete, 168; layettes, 1088; other garments sent to New York, 76; warm garments sent to Miami, Florida, 158 and local persons given aide, 208.

Mrs. G. G. Stitzinger reported 189 pieces of furniture have been sent to Shenango Depot at Transfer. Also, 2,000 coat hangers have been donated, sofa pillows, records, games and other items. Persons having discarded but usable knitted sweaters or other articles, if they would unravel and wash same and turn it over to the B-A Center on East street or call, Phone 6518.

Bundles for America have been amply supplied with ash trays through the courtesy of the Shenango Pottery. Sixty are now being used constantly in the five day rooms furnished by the organization.

B'nai B'rith organization with A. Shenken in charge, has offered to furnish a day room. Other groups or persons interested in giving their time or money toward this gigantic undertaking, are asked to call either Mrs. Johnson or Mrs. Stitzinger. It is hoped, New Castle residents will keep in mind, that anytime they have an article of clothing of a piece of furniture that can be used, which they might want to discard, remember Bundles for America has a place for it.

RECOVERING AFTER OPERATION

Mrs. Ethel B. Thomas, of Court street, is a patient in the Spencer hospital, Meadville, Pa., where she underwent an emergency operation Sunday night.

Stricken suddenly at the home of her sister, whom she was visiting, Mrs. Thomas was rushed to the hospital, where she is now getting along nicely, according to word received here.

Cowhand Confesses To Knife Murder

Roving Cowboy-Hobo Admits Slaying Of Former Army Officer In California

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—An itinerant cowhand who has been a hobo since childhood, today confessed to the knife murder of Barlow V. Bowen, 26, former army officer whose nude body was found stabbed 20 times in a dormitory room at Claremont College.

Robert Harrington, 20, roving shoemaker and cowboy, was arrested in the shadow of a Los Angeles jail. Still wearing his bloodstained western garb, Harrington readily admitted having stabbed Bowen to death following a drinking bout in the victim's bedroom.

"Bowen invited me to spend the night in his room," Harrington said. "After we drank three quarts of wine, he attempted to attack me with a hunting knife. I took the knife away from him and stabbed him. I was pretty drunk. I don't remember much about it."

Bowen, son of an army major, was discharged from the army air corps recently because of poor health.

Vandergrift Awarded Congressional Medal

Former Marine Commandant On Guadalcanal Cited For "Heroic Accomplishment"

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—President Roosevelt today awarded the congressional medal of honor to Maj Gen. Alexander Vandergrift, for "outstanding and heroic accomplishment" against the Japanese forces in the Solomon Islands.

Vandergrift, former marine commandant on Guadalcanal, received the award from the president's hand at the White House, in the presence of his wife and their son, Maj. Alexander A. Vandergrift, Jr., also of the marine corps, and Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet.

Vandergrift led the original force of occupation into the Solomons last August 7.

With the receipt of today's award Vandergrift achieved the distinction of being the first marine in the present war to receive both the navy cross and the congressional medal of honor.

No Notice Given To 'A' Card Holders

Since the announcement that gasoline ration books must be renewed by March 1, a number of "A" card holders have wondered why they didn't get any notice from the War Price and Rationing Board. The reason is that "A" card holders get no notice, their books not expiring for some time yet.

The notices are going out to holders of supplemental gas ration cards that expire on March 1. These are "B" cards mostly, as many "C" cards do not expire until the middle of the summer.

Council Pays $401 As Dues To League

Mayor Doesn't Like Payment But Motion Passes Unanimously

Council met Thursday in the municipal building and voted payment of 1943 dues, amounting to $401, to the Leauge of Third Class Cities, but Mayor Charles B. Mayne indicated he was not much in favor of paying the dues—based on a rate of $8 per thousand population. Other councilmen took an opposite attitude.

The mayor asserted that the league arranged the conventions, set-up of topics and declared "you don't understand what the speaker is talking about.' He based this, he explained, upon his attendance.

Councilman J. D. Alexander took the view that it was better for the city to belong to the league than to "stand alone".

Councilman D. O. Davies said that the league has a legislative committee and charged this city has not been interested in it because the city never has been represented.

"We once was the leading representative," City Clerk C. Ed Brown informed the city fathers.

"The league met two weeks ago," Davies declared.

The vote to pay the dues was taken and passed unanimously.

Reveal 19 Enemy Vessels Destroyed In Mediterranean

Allied Air Forces, British Subs Pile Up Biggest Score Yet In Few Days' Time

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Nineteen Axis vessels were revealed today to have been sunk or damaged in the Mediterranean by British submarines and Allied Air Forces in the past few days.

Nine enemy supply ships and one anti-submarine vessel were definitely sent to the bottom by submarines, according to an admiralty communique. Four small vessels were sunk by Allied airmen in their relentless attacks against Axis shipping off the Tunisian coast, according to the Middle East high command.

That made the score 14 sunk and four damaged in one of the biggest "bags" of enemy shipping in Allied Mediterranean operations to date.

The admiralty communique said that one northbound transport and another large vessel were successfully attacked and it is considered their destruction is probable. Another small vessel was attacked and damaged by a British submarine.

An Allied torpedo plane scored a direct hit on an enemy tanker off the south coast of Italy. The ship developed a heavy list and had to be beached. Heavy Allied bombers also hit a motor vessel in the harbor of Messina, Sicily, and attacked shipping in the port of Palermo.

The Middle East command's communique also reported air raids on several points in southeast Sicily in which hits were scored on warehouses and a number of fires started.

Ruml Testifies On His Tax Plan

Tells Congress Tax Liabilties Have Now Become "A National Danger"

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the New York Federal Reserve board, today told Congress that tax liabilities have now become "a national danger," declared that "there is no escaping the conclusion that the 1942 income tax must be either dropped or deferred," and proposed that the nation be put on a pay-as-you-go and collect-at-the-source basis by April 1.

Testifying before the House ways and means committee which is considering a new tax policy program, Ruml, seeking to meet treasury department criticism of his plan to forgive all 1942 income taxes, denied the charge that it would be an inflationary step. He argued on the contrary that it would be a financial gain for the government.

At the same time, he proposed to meet another criticism of his program, by providing for the imposition of a "windfall" safeguard to take care of cases where an individual's income showed a great increase in 1942 over the previous year.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills

Bomber Pilots In New Guinea Daring In Raids On Japs

Both Newcomers And Veterans Distinguish Themselves In Damaging Enemy

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Feb. 3.—(Delayed)—Both the newer bomber pilots and the veterans are distinguishing themselves with their daring and heroic exploits against the Japs.

Two good stories of derring-do came to light today and the hero of one of them was a veteran, while the hero of the other had been "operational flying" for only a few days.

The vet is rangy, Lieut. Henry "Hank" Chovenac of Fayetteville Tex., while the newcomer is Lieut. Howard Carlson of Chester, Ind.

Reconnaissancing over the northwestern end of New Britain near an open bay, Chovenac sighted a group of small Japanese ships apparently landing enemy troops in a clearing on the shore. He attempt to bomb the Japs, but his release mechanism jammed. After several unsuccessful attempts to unloose his bombs, Chovenac dove to within a few feet of the water, and ordered that every gun of his heavily-armed bomber be directed against the landing boats.

Thousands of rounds of ammunition were poured into the Nips and Chovenac estimates that at least 30 to 50 were killed. His combat crew distinguished itself two weeks ago when, flying alone, it sank an enemy transport.

Denounces Plan For Jap Unit In Army

Representative Rankin Asserts Japs Should Be In Labor Battalions Instead

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Declaring that the United States must destroy Japan or risk probable invasion of the Pacific coast, Rep. Rankin (D) Miss., took the floor of the House on Wednesday to denounce plans by Secretary of War Stimson to organize a Jap unit in the American army.

Instead, Rankin maintained, the Japs or persons of Japanese ancestry who want to serve this country, should be put into labor battalions "where each and every one of them could be watched at all times."

"Not only that," Rankin continued, "but the American people are sick and tired of this policy of pampering the Japs in these concentration camps. Those camps should be turned over to the army and every one of them should be put under strict military control.

"While our boys are being butchered by these brutal apes in the Pacific, and while these savages are now on our soil in the Aleutian islands, I submit it is not time to continue the maudlin policy toward them that resulted in, if it did not invite the Pearl Harbor disaster."

BUREAUCRATIC RULES PROBE IS REPORTED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. — The House rules committee on Wednesday reported a sweeping resolution sponsored by Rep. Howard Smith (D) Va., authorizing the appointment of a special five-member committee to probe bureaucratic rules and regulations, their infringement on constitutional rights, and their extension beyond the intent of Congress.

The injustice resented by salaried men is that others who make more have ways to conceal it.

Service Star Cards Available

Neshannock Post Of V. F. W. Still Has Supply Of Cards On Hand

According to Commander John T. Stoner, of Neshannock Post, No. 315, V. F. W., there is still a large supply of service cards on hand which are available to local residents who wish to honor the members of their family in the service. They can be procured at post headquarters upstairs, at 126½ East Washington street.

If anyone is unable tocome to the post headquarters for these emblems, if they will mail a card to Neshannock Post, V. F. W., 126½ East Washington street, the card will be mailed to them. Those requesting this service, should specify the number of cards, and the number and color of the stars, whether blue, silver, or gold. Blue is for men in service in this country, silver for those overseas, and gold for those who have made the supreme sacrifice.

If we are doing such wonders in production, why can't we spare a few guns for China.

U. S. Bombers Hit Germany

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Heavy bombers of the United States Army Air Force attacked targets in northwestern Germany today following a devastating Royal Air Force assault against Hamburg during the night.

The new raid, following several hours after giant RAF planes had blasted factories producing and equipping submarines at Hamburg, was the second attack carried out by American bombers against German soil.

The first was made last week, when Flying Fortresses raided the naval base of Wilhelmshaven and the port of Emden.

Old City Tax Duplicates Are Not Yet Found

Harold Woods, sidewalk inspector today is a tax duplicate detective; in fact, he has been that for several days and so far he has not been able to recover any of the tax duplicates of 1915-1922 vintage which were removed from the city building according to Attorney Joe McFate.

It was asserted some time ago by the attorney he had been informed the duplicates he sought were removed to the disposal plant. The reason was not given to the attorney.

Councilman Joe Alexander delegated Woods to investigate.

"I heard they were stocked on the floor at the disposal plant and when the flood came the water washed them out the door," he said. Woods explained, however, he wasn't sure they were tax duplicates—just papers.

And then he was told to search in: The janitor's room.

On top of a vault in the city treasury.

P. S.—Woods is searching but so far the tax duplicates which attorneys now need in tax matters have not yet been found.

It was pointed out that none of the present city officials, high or low, had anything to do with the removal of the duplicates.

Local Recruiting Officer Taking Youths Year Under Draft Age

Chief Petty Officer David C. Ritchie announced today that youths of seventeen, who can pass the physical examination, will be accepted for service in the United States Navy.

Recruiting of young men over that age is not being done at the local office in the Post Office building under the new arrangements announced by Manpower Director Paul V. McNutt. Application for navy enrollment is made through the selective service system at the army induction centers, where recruiting officers of the navy are now stationed.

Double-Barreled Repercussion To Work-Fight Order

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The ultimatum of War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt that married men with children must find work in war-essential industry or face army induction had a double-barreled repercussion today.

Seven offices of the United States Employment Service in the New York area were jammed from nine a. m. to nine p. m. with some 35,000 applicants seeking to register for jobs in war plants, while employers reported that hundreds of other workers in the 29 listed "non-essential" types of employment quit their jobs "to have some fun before we go into the army."

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

ATTRACTIVE EGGS ARE LAID IN CLEAN NESTS

Eggs are attractive in clean white or brown shells. They can be produced that way in nests of the right size containing soft, relatively loose nesting materials.

Nests for Leghorns are best when 9 to 10 inches wide, about 12 inches deep, and 12 to 13 inches high. For the heavier breeds, use the same dimensions except that 11-inch width is preferred. If nests are too wide, there are more chances for two or three hens crowding into one nest and breaking some of the eggs.

Shavings is one of the best nesting materials. They are relatively soft, do not pack readily, and the hens turn them over to some extent when they go in and out of the nests. This turning over of the nesting material brings the fresher particles to the top and the eggs have a clean, attractive place on which to rest until they are gathered.

Other practical nesting materials are sawdust, crushed corn cobs sifted to remove fine materials, cut straw, and shredded corn fodder.

Lawrence county farmers find that much time and labor is saved in grading and packing eggs if they are clean and attractive when they come from the nests.

CLOVER AND ALFALFA SEED SUPPLY IS LOW

There never was a time when it was more important than now to provide for a future supply of good legume roughage for livestock and to keep farm soils at a high level of productivity.

Clover and alfalfa are essential for both purposes, but this spring farmers face a serious alfalfa and clover seed shortage. There are three reasons for this shortage: poor seed crops last summer, a small carry-over of seed from the previous year, and in addition, extensive exports to our allies under lend-lease.

Since both red and alsike clover and alfalfa are short, it is not possible to do much substituting of one for another and there are no satisfactory substitutes for these three.

To make the availabl seed go as far as possible in meeting the needs of all farmers, each farmer is urged to buy and use no more than is actually essential to produce a satisfactory stand. Any waste of seed through excessive seeding will mean earlier exhaustion of the visible supply and possibly many acres unseeded, with a consequent shortage of legume hay in 1944.

One pound of alfalfa seed an acre, if sown evenly, will provide about five seeds to each square foot of surface. Likewise, a pound of red clover an acre will put about nine seeds on each square foot, and a pound of alsike clover about 18 seeds. Using these figures, any farmer can plan his rate of seeding. Six to 8 pounds of red clover, 4 or 5 pounds of alsike clover, or 8 to 10 pounds of alfalfa should be ample for a full seeding under good conditions for each acre. Mixtures can be arranged on a proportionate basis and kept to reasonable amounts. Some good farmers get along with 4 pounds of red clover alone per acre sown on wheat, and secure satisfactory stands. Others sow wasteful amounts.

Careful sowing will reduce the amount of seed required and at the same time will insure better stands. When the ground is not too wet, the best single time to sown on winter grain generally is when the surface soil is loose from alternate freezing and thawing. Going over the field twice at internals of several weeks between seedings and using half of the seed each time will increase the posisbility of having favorable weather following the seeding and thus getting a better catch. The amount of seed needed will be less if an alfalfa drill is used or some covering of the seed is provided by a weeder, spike harrow, or grain drill. A light top-dressing of manure, preferably containing phosphate used in the stable, on the winter grain greatly helps the clover seedlings.

In sowing with spring grain, the firmer and finer the seedbed the less grass and clover seed needed. If seed is sown behind the drill by turning the spouts back from the grass seed box or even as a separate hand operation, less seed will be buried too deeply and a smaller amount will be required. Cultipacking as the final operation on spring seedings will help substantially.

AVOID LOSS OF PIGS AT FARROWING TIME

Every little pig is a potential pork producer, but dead little pigs produce no pork. The enormous demand for increased pork production this year makes it imperative that a larger percentage of pigs farrowed be raised to market age.

Normal about 35 per cent of all pigs farrowed are lost before weaning time. About 25 per cent either are born dead or die during the first three days of their lives.

With these facts in mind, the careful farmer will handle his brood sows as efficiently as possible during the gestation period so that the pigs will be farrowed alive strong and vigorous, and thus will have a better chance to produce pork efficiently.

In aiming toward these results it is important that the brood sows during the gestation period get a balanced ration containing about 18 per cent protein and have access to a mineral mixture. These provisions will give proper nourishment to develop pigs that will be strong and vigorous at farrowing time.

Recent experiments show a larger percentage o spring-farrowed pigs are born weak than of fall-farrowed pigs. The reason for this is that fall pigs are produced by brood sows which have had more exercise in the open and have been favored with direct sunshine and the benefits of green pasture feed.

To furnish as nearly as possible the same conditions and increase the vitality of spring-farrowed pigs, it is essential to force sows during the winter to get out into the open and take as much exercsie as possible and supply them with feeds high in vitamins. One of the most important feeds for this purpose is alfalfa hay of good quality. It has been found that brood sows can handle as high as 10 to 15 per cent of alfalfa hay in the ration.

The alfalfa hay can be included in the grain mixture as ground alfalfa or fed as hay in racks. The use of alfalfa reduces the cost of the ration and saves some of the scarce protein feeds. At the same time, it keeps the sows in better health and makes it possible for them to farrow stronger pigs favored with a chance to live and make satisfactory gains.

When animals go into the winter they usually have a storage of vitamins accumulated in their bodies during the summer. This shortage of vitamins decreases during the winter and is very low during the latter part of the gestation period. Therefore, it is important to replenish the supply of vitamins at this time.

FAMILIES URGED TO LIVE FROM FARM THIS YEAR

Food rationing need not be a hard-ship to farm families if they consider producing some of their food supply, according to Miss Anna Marie Quinn, home economics extension representative, Lawrence County. Milk and dairy products vegetables, fruits, meat, poultry and eggs are some of the essential foods that can be produced on most farms.

Fall family members may get together now and plan how much of each food they will need for a year and how they will provide it. Boys and girls may do their bit by becoming members of a 4-H garden, pig, or poultry club and girls may help preserve foods through 4-H canning work.

It's not too early to plan the garden so that it will contain a variety of vegetables that are high in food values, says Miss Quinn. Some families have made the mistake of having too much of one kind of vegetable and they tire of it. Vegetables high in vitamins and minerals include tomatoes, carrots, leaf lettuce, cabbage, broccoli, spinach kale, beet greens, peas, snap beans, and soybeans. Other vegetables which add variety to meals are corn, beets, onions, radishes, and cucumbers.

The surplus vegetables from the family garden may be preserved by canning, salting, drying, freezing or storing to provide variety to winter meals. According to the latest reports, home preserved fruits and vegetables do not have to be reported when registering for War Ration Book Two.

Beef, veal, lamb, pork, and poultry can be put into freezer lockers when available or canned for future use. Meat canned as steaks, roasts, stews, or sausage can be a big help in planning meals during the summer when everyone is busy.

When eggs are plentiful, they can be put down in water glass for use later in the year.

Every pound of food produced and preserved at home releases a similar amount for our armed forces or for families who must buy all the food they eat.

EVERY WOMAN ASKED TO SAVE SEWING EQUIPMENT

Conserve your sewing equipment and aid in the war effort, is a reminder from Miss Anna Marie Quinn, home economics extension representative, Lawrence County.

The production of pins is cut for the duration so don't sweep them into the dustpan. Instead have pin cushions or containers conveniently located so that everyone will have a place to put the pins he finds. Another idea is save all pins that come fastened in clothes that you buy or those that come from the dry cleaner.

Needles with sharp smooth points are essential to keep the mending going easily and to make patches appear neat. If you want needles to stay bright and shiny, keep them in the black surfurless paper in which they come, and keep the package closed. The black paper prevents the needles from rusting. An emery bag in the sewing box is good to polish rough or rusty needles.

No homemaker can do her best work with a dull instrument. Shears and scissors that cut smoothly and easily from the heel to the points of the blades ought to be among the sewing tools. The shears and scissors need an occasional oiling to keep them in the best cutting condition.

Last but not least is the thimble that fits snugly and has dents on top that are deep enough to keep the head of the needle from slipping out. The finish of the thimble must be smooth so that it does not catch threads in the fabric. A thimble that fits perfectly is an aid to speedy and good mending and sewing.

One young private found it pretty complicated, but after much hard work managed to set up eight connections on a practice switchboard. Seeing that he was very nervous and tense, our instructress complimented him on his progress.

"Yeah," he stammered, "I got the cords up there all right, but how the —— I mean how am I ever going to get 'em back down where they belong?"

Switchboards are busier than ever before these days. So, occasionally, it may take a few seconds longer before you hear the Operator's "Number, please?" Please be patient.

TWO OPINIONS

Two opinions were handed down by Judge John G. Lamoree on Wednesday morning.

The first was in the case of H. B. Salkeld for himself and for the benefit of all other stockholders of the Old Furnace Company who may join hereinafter, versus the Old Furnace Coal Company a corporation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, J. H. Johnston, H. W Findley and Oscar W. Riley. The case arises out of a bill presented by the plaintiffs in which he claims that the men named, who are officers of the company had schemed to defraud the other stockholders through various devices designed to reduce the assets of the company.

The defendants asked for dismissal of the suit upon the grounds that the case should not be heard in the Lawrence County court, and that Beaver County was the proper place to present the case. The reason assigned was that the principal business offices of the company were not in Lawrence County.

Judge Lamoree found that the defendants had a general sales office in Wampum and that this constituted the business offices. He discharged the rule to show cause why service upon the defendants should not be dismissed.

The second opinion was in the case of Associated Discount Corporation against Elrick Scarazzo, trading as State Auto Sales Co. In this case the affidavit of the defendant raising questions of law is dismissed The case arises out of an automobile sold by the defendant to one Benedict Pieri. The sale was financed through the plaintiff company and it is alleged a clause in the agreement provided for the defendant to take the car back if the sale was not fully consummated After two payments upon the car Pieri discontinued and the plaintiff company repossessed the car, and then asked that the defendant purchase it as per the agreement.

Electricity helps make his "tin hat" TOUGH!

There's no better military helmet than the one that protects the American soldier. It's made of manganese steel—the toughest, strongest helmet steel that science and industry together can produce. And this manganese steel, in turn, is made in electric furnaces at 3000 degrees Fahrenheit!

Electric power helps make steel strong—and makes Uncle Sam strong, too. Electric power turns the machines that turn out "tin hats," tommy-guns, tanks, and other war material. Electric power sews steel seams on fast-building ships.

One big, basic reason for America's matchless war production is America's abundant power supply. We have five times the power we had in the last war—far more than the Axis systems of political management and state slavery can produce. And seven-eighths of all this vast flood of power is supplied by the electric companies under experienced business management.

This power was ready when war came because business men in America have the freedom to plan and create—the initiative to invent and improve—for everybody's benefit. It's the freedom to do a better job that has helped give the average American household about twice as much electricity for its money in the last 15 years!

It's the freedom that will help rebuild a battered world—after we have won the victory and the peace.

Road Clashes Face Top Three Quintets In Section 21 Race

New Wilmington At Union Township High Friday Daylight Attraction

JACKSON IS HOST TO WAMPUM FIVE

Road games lie ahead for the top three Section 21 teams Friday.

Intense interest is being evinced in the matinee session involving the pace setting New Wilmington "Greyhounds" and Union Township high, billed for Union's boards. The clash will start at 2:15 o'clock.

At this writing, the Eaglesonmen from the college town are riding the crest of a 13-game winning streak. The losing side of the ledger shows a "0."

Aiming For 300

In view of Kenny "Skyscraper" Cathcart's sizzling scoring feats, the game tops the daylight sports card. The six foot six center, who personally stifled Wampum's push last Friday, has amassed 244 markers. With a half dozen settos dotting the book, he's a cinch to hit the 300 mark, barring injuries which would sideline him.

Norbert Borowicz, the high sailing cager with oomph plus, plays an exceedingly clever supporting role. He sets off the scoring switch with accurate passes and shoots unusual accuracy.

Together the pair figures to give Union Township a busy afternoon. Already boasting of a 35-12 romp over the Patterson-coached quintet, New Wilmington should get by with little effort. Annarella and Dougherty loom as Union's major threats.

Wampum At Jackson

In after dusk dates, second place Wampum invades Mt. Jackson and Bessemer dribbled at Shenango Township.

Craine's latest scoring episode which stirred the district basketball mart has added additional lure to the shindig. The "Springy" lad owns 343 markers and is shooting for the 376 mark, a figure which will net him the WPIAL mark he notched last season.

The "Indians" must win to keep their title chances from sinking. A setback unquestionably would mean the towel.

Craine and company may experience difficulty with "Jacks," off the showing made by the Mountiés recently in Wampum. The Stunkard-coached crew put up quite a howl before surrendering, 54-44. For three quarters the clash was nip and tuck.

Since the engagement is billed at Mt. Jackson, where Bradley and his mates form a stiff assignment, the Hemmonmen will have to be right on the beam.

Shenango Home Club

Clicking after a disheartening slump, Bessemer hikes to Shenango Township in what looms as one of the key frays from a spectator's standpoint. The "Cementers," throttled by Wampum and New Wilmington, showed old time form in routing Union Tuesday.

With five more league battles listed, including meetings with New Wilmington and Wampum, the Weresuk-coached machine has an outside chance of repeating last season's sectional conquest by trampling its remaining opponents.

East Brook tries outside competition, traveling for a struggle with Princeton High.

Preliminary Heats In Millrose Games Will Be Run Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK Feb. 4.—Eight preliminary heats, two semi-finals of four each and a four-man final today were scheduled to accommodate the 32 entrants in the 60-yard dash at the Millrose games Saturday.

Included among the top stars entered are Norwood "Barney" Elwell, now a private at Camp Lee; Ed Conwell, N. Y. U. freshman; Bill Carter; Harold Stickel and Herbert Thompson.

In the high hurdles, Ensign Fred Wolcott, national hurdles champion, was compelled to withdraw his entry because of a chance in duty at the Georgia pre-flight school to which he is assigned. Heading the list for this event now are Bob Wright of Ohio State and Charles "Whitey" Hlad, air force cadet of Chicago who was formerly of Michigan Normal.

Senesky Sizzles; Scores 44 Points

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—Breaking three Philadelphia district scoring records in helping his St. Joseph's team rout Newark college 79-33 last night on the Hawk court, sharpshooter George Senesky today was hailed as the "hottest" basketball player in these parts.

The Hawks' "one-man team" tallied 44 points to top the 39 made by ex-teammate Larry Kenney against Blue Ridge in 1940. In addition, his 14-game total of 311 points broke Kenney's city collegiate record of 277, and surpassed the all-time Philadelphia district mark of 296 made by Villanova's Duke Duzminski.

Senesky has averaged more than 21 points per game.

Kendra Leads Way To Falcon Triumph

Kendra's 10 points highlighted last night's House Basketball league victory gained by the Polish Falcons on the Y. M. C. A. hardwood.

The Polish flippers spilled the Yankees, 33-15.

Lineup:

CUBS TO DISCARD VESTEE TYPE SUITS

CHICAGO, Feb. 4. — The Chicago Cubs, conspicuous sartorially the last three summers in their vestee type costumes, thanked wartime rationing today for the announcement that the 1943 team would wear Orthodox baseball uniforms.

No less delighted were the north siders' fans over the latest communique from General Manager James T. Gallagher which said:

"The 1943 Cubs will wear old type uniforms made of materials that have not been rationed, and, frankly, are not likely to be. Some of the players did not appreciate our expenditure and effort to give them a cool and attractive uniform."

Rice "Sizes Up" 2-Mile Opponents

New York A. C. Star Runner Holds Millrose Record Of 8:52.8

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—Greg Rice, with the thoroughness he employed in preparing for all of the more than half hundred races he won, today had "sized up" the seven opponents who will run against him in the Millrose two-mile stretch next Saturday night.

The New York A. C. streak who established a record of 8:52.8 in the last Millrose meet has them classified thus:

Oliver Hunter 3d, his Notre Dame successor, "vastly improved."

George DeGeorge, New York A. C. national steeplechase champion, "in condition for a fast race."

Chief Petty Officer Tom Quinn, formerly of Michigan Normal, now at Notre Dame, "running as fast on the Notre Dame track as I ever did."

Leo Case, junior national champion of Manhattan, "a comer who loves to run."

Roy Phillip of Tufts, "third in the I. C. 4-A last year."

Dave Williams of Georgetown, "a fiery fighting runner whose improvement I've noted since he was a schoolboy."

Winfield Emlet, Jr., of Franklin and Marshall, who "is a new name to me."

New Castle Meets Aliquippa Friday

New Castle high plunges into the second half of the Section 3 race on Friday night, playing Aliquippa away from home.

With Burris out of the 'Cane lineup due to graduation, Coach Bridenbaugh probably will use Jesse Gunn in the guard post.

The locals do not play at home until February 12, facing Beaver Falls.

BOSTON RED SOX SIGN AL SIMMONS

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—The name of Al Simmons, veteran outfielder who was a star in by-gone years with Connie Mack, was on the Red Sox player list today as the Boston club tried to strengthen its outfield crew depleted by the draft and war work.

"I figured that Al could help us in this emergency," said general manager Eddie Collins.

The Boston Sox have only Pete Fox left of their experienced outfielders. Ted Williams and Dom DiMaggio are in the service and Lou Finney has been given a voluntary retirement to farm.

Simmons finished his career with the Athletics in 1932 and since then played with the White Sox, Tigers, Senators, Braves and Reds. Then he went back to Connie Mack as part time player and coach.

GOMEZ AUTOGRAPHS BRAVES' CONTRACT

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—The Boston Braves had the signed 1943 contract of newly acquired "Lefty" Gomez in the safe today.

The veteran Yankee southpaw met President Bob Quinn, his new boss, for the first time and signed for unannounced terms.

All contracts for Braves players will be in the mail by the end of the week, Quinn said.

Second U. P. Quint Adds Fifth Victory

Bob And Francis Pitzer Lead Onslaught; Epworths, Croton Win

With Bob and Francis Pitzer uncorking rare performances, the Second U. P. has an important say in the New Castle Church Basketball league second half race.

The duo, last night on Y. floor, helped their mates gain the fifth consecutive loop win, slaughtering the last place First Baptists, 58-17.

The Pitzers divided 30 points, Francis alone getting 18. D. Baxter, who entered the clash in the second half, tossed 16 points. Sweet was tops for the losers with eight points.

Epworths Triumph

Epworths, defeated once this half, kept on the victorious path by lambasting Central Christians, 42-23. Dart and "Zeke" Walnio featured the winners' attack. Hopper starred for the losers, getting 13 points.

DERRINGER LEAVES FOR FLORIDA HOME

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Paul Derringer, veteran hurler recently purchased from Cincinnati by the Chicago Cubs, started back for his Sarasota, Fla., home today with his 1943 wage terms apparently ironed out.

Although James T. Gallagher, general manager of the Cubs, refused to acknowledge that a contract had been signed, he previously admitted that salary terms would be discussed on Derringer's visit.

The Cubs' salary ceiling under the recent ruling on the wage-freeze law as applied to baseball is $15,000. Two seasons ago Derringer drew $23,000 from the Cincinnati club for his contribution to the Reds' pennant and world title. This was whittled somewhat last season, and it was expected to take another trimming from the Cubs.

Landis Orders Mesner Return To Cincy Reds

Czar Says Sale To Dodgers In Violation Of Draft Regulations

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Steve Mesner, rookie infielder, was once again the property of the Cincinnati Reds, today under a ruling issued by baseball commissioner, Kenesaw M. Landis.

Landis ruled that the recent sale of Mesner to the Brooklyn Dodgers by the Reds violated the National League's draft regulations.

Under a rule adopted last fall no club can sell a player if drafted via the waiver route until it has given him a trial. The Reds drafted Mesner from the Sacramento club of the Pacific coast league and must hold on to him until April 1.

It is probable the Reds will give Steve a trial in spring training and transfer his contract to Brooklyn in April.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

George Chip, former middleweight champion, battled Jack Dillon, known as Jack the Giant Killer, through 175 rounds and in every encounter Chip was forced to "call" Jack before he would cut out the rough stuff he said today when interviewed by the writer, concerning styles.

"I wouldn't be surprised were Fritzie Zivic to surprise Beau Jack Friday night," the writer said to the ex-champ. "I like Fritzie's style, although he is now on Taboggan highway. He's tricky and vicious. Another guy I liked was Carl Tremaine," we ventured.

"I don't know much about Fritzie," said Chip, "but I don't like fighters to use tactics like Carl used. You know I fought Jack Dillon through 175 rounds and he was, in a way, like Tremaine. He always pulled something and I had to 'call him' and every time I did, he cut out the rough stuff.

"'What's the matter with you Jack? I don't have to knee you to chisel by. C'mon and fight fair.' I would tell him. 'O K. George.' Dillon would reply and after that he wouldn't try to pull any rough stuff although he was always on his toes trying to flatten me," said George.

"How did you find Jimmy Clabby?" we asked.

"Smart fellow. Always moving. He kept you working," said Chip.

"There was quite a difference between the Gibbons, Tom and Mike, wasn't there?" we suggested.

"A whole lot. Tom would deviate from boxing and fight you, but Mike, he was a master. He studied you out and never let you get loaded to discharge. Just when you about worked yourself into a position to let go, he would reach out with the left and shove your right shoulder, and off balance you'd go.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

What's cookin'?

Back when Joe Louis caused America's medicos to look askew because of his ability to put members of the pugilistic set asleep without use of anesthetic, the skeptics barked: "Fake." "Set up." "Just another bum." "Crooked." "Who couldn't do that?"

Yesterday's sports headline—Craine Meshes 48 Points; Smashes District Record—reminded me of Louis. The ink was still sticky when agnostics blared out: "Who's Darlington?" "Who couldn't do that?" "That doesn't sound right."

Darlington, a Beaver Valley school won't and seldom does win basketball championships. The institution, mediocre in athletic ranks, true, nevertheless has athletes who have that college try. They're out to win and seek to prevent the opposition from doing so.

In view of the fact that Darlington had already played Wampum, Craine was no stranger. Being the star, the athlete was the guy to stop. As Coach Hennon explained, 'Coy was on. It was a night when everything dropped it." An athlete has to have the breaks, in any sport, to perform the unusual.

The answer to that silly query: "Who couldn't do that?" is a plain—mighty, mighty few. Provided the competing players are of the same or nearly the same ages, scoring 48 points is quite a feat. The ball still has to be shot through the elusive nets.

Lester Leasure, brother of "Baby" Leasure, new A. M. A. welter king, and himself a top ranking district fighter, still is a scrapper. Instead of the ring, the west sider is helping sock down the Japs in Australia.

One of my colleagues, Charles Allen, contributes a paragraph about Wes Bennett, Westminster's greatest basketballer. The athlete, named on the all-time college team, is confined to a hospital in the Pacific area.

Westminster officials have been informed that Bennett had been stationed on Guadalcanal. It is believed, and hoped by local sports fans, that the likeable athlete is hospitalized to receive treatment for exhaustion or illness.

Sophomore Star Nets 21 Markers In Speedy Clash

TITANS NEXT FACE PITT ON SATURDAY

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 4.—With Charles "Goldy" Goldblum, Pittsburgh high scoring sophomore, leading the attack, Westminster's Titans bagged their fourth victory of the season, subduing Geneva college, 55-42, Wednesday night in New Wilmington.

Both teams played evenly in a free-scoring first half exhibiting a horse race brand of ball. Play was so close that the score was deadlocked 10 times. However, after the count reached 28-all late in the second, the Titans forged in front and the valley collegians never caught up.

Goldblum Standout

The game developed into a scoring duel between Goldblum, Blue and White center, and John Rayz, Beaver Falls sophomore wizard. Piling up 18 points in the first two chukkers, Goldblum finished as top man with 21 markers for the night. Rayz, out since January 4 with a knee injury, matched buckets with the rugged "Goldy" in the first half, chalking up 15 points. However, Goldblum was assigned the job of guarding the Covies' scoring sensation and held Rayz scoreless in the last half.

Geneva took an early 5-1 lead in the first four minutes of play before Goldblum and Ossoff pumped in deuces to knot the count. The lead exchanged hands four times in the first, standing 14-14 as the initial chapter ended.

Titans Break Tie

The Washabaughmen jumped ahead in the second when Goldblum and Ossoff clicked for four points apiece.

Leo Learns Draft Status Next Week

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 4.—Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, left for New York where he will learn sometime next week whether or not he is headed for service with the U. S. Army.

Durocher underwent a physical (screening) examination at the City Hospital Clinic in St. Louis along with 149 other less prominent, prospective draftees.

Whether Durocher, who will be 38 years old in July, is to be reclassified 1-A in the draft depends on the doctors' report which will be forwarded to his Brooklyn selective board within a few days. An announcement from the board is expected next week.

Durocher now is classified 3-A. He is married, but has no children and his wife, a St. Louis dress designer, is self-dependent.

Leo said he will stop off in Philadelphia Friday to attend a dinner in honor of Connie Mack, veteran manager of the Philadelphia Athletics.

And again he might stick out his right and shove your left shoulder—and off you'd go again. You could not get set to 'discharge' on him," Chip asserted.

"Well, what about Harry Greb? You fought him, too."

"There's one fellow you couldn't figure out. I fought him twice, and I know. And let me tell you a little story about a conversation I had with Mike Gibbons after he fought Greb in Pittsburgh," Chip asked.

"I was going to Terre Haute to fight and stopped off in Pittsburgh to see them 'show'. After the fight I went to Gibbons' dressing-room and a few minutes later Mike said.

"George, can you figure this fellow Greb out?"

"You can't do it Mike," Chip replied.

George recalled that Red Mason, manager of Harry, had him box Mike and for a couple of rounds Gibbons had him looking silly, but Harry abandoned his attempt to out-box Mike and went back to his unorthodox, or shall we say 'Greb's style'? No one never could figure out what Harry was going to do next," Chip asserted.

"Was Knockout Brown, the Greek, a tough guy'?"

"Tough. Say, that fellow (George Contas) was one of the toughest guys I ever fought. We put on a 'murder act' every time we fought, but the minute we got out of the ring we were the best of friends." Chip said that he understands that Brown is doing very good in Chicago.

An then George dwelt upon "How to become a fighter."

"I see a lot of these fellows now and then. Some of them lack the very thing they need most and it was taught me by Jimmie Dime.

"That is balance. Unless you've got it, you're not in position to hit. That is the first essential."

Chip said it required two years teaching by Dime for him to master a left hook which he discovered suddenly one night.

"I kept punching and was getting nowhere until Dime asked:

"'George, why don't you try a left hook when he works into that position'?"

"My opponent had his hands high and I figured Jimmie knew what he was talking about and I 'let it go. I scored a knockout.'

"Was it worth two years study George, to get that punch down?" Dime asked.

"Sure was," he told Dime.

Chip said that Jimmie Dunn, who taught California Jackie Wilson (who fights Sugar Robinson soon) up to the time Wilson entered the army, secured his knowledge from Dime.

"Where would I have got to without having been taught by Dime," Chip said Dunn asserted.

blum* deposited three consecutive birdies, but Rayz followed the Titan star's example and Geneva caught up. With three go and the score tied at 28-28, the Titans grabbed the top post on fielders by O'Hara and Goldblum to nabe a 34-29 margin as the half ended.

In the third the terrific pace set in the first half was noticeable as the tempo slowed down to a walk. The Titans managed to pad their advantage, 41-34, at the three-quarter mark.

As the athletes started the stretch drive the Covenanters were a tired lot and Westminster held the upper hand. Coach Washabaugh cleared the bench in the last period when the veterans stacked up a comfortable lead.

Geneva's scoring punch faded when Rayz left the contest at 6:30 of the final canto via the four personal foul method.

At the free throw stripe the invaders muffed once in nine shots while the Titans potted 11 out of 18 gift throws.

Ossoff Flashy

Playing brilliantly along with Goldblum was Freshman Don Heddleston, who scored 13 points, and Ted Ossoff, Oil City senior. Ossoff, one of the greatest Blue and White gridders, has played flashy ball all season. Last night was no exception.

Saturday night at New Wilmington the season reaches one of its high marks when "Doc" Carlson's sensational Pitt university cagers battle Westminster at 8:15 o'clock.

Little Change In Market Prices

Some Stocks Show Slight Declines—Others Buck Downward Trend

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The stock market today extended yesterday's irregular decline after holding relatively steady at the start.

A few issues dropped as much as a point, but declines generally were limited to fractional proportions and a few scattered stocks bucked the trend for modest gains.

Douglas Aircraft and DuPont were among the stocks to lose a point or more. Lesser declines were suffered by Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Kennecott, General Electric, Santa Fe, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, American Tobacco "B," International Harvester and Woolworth.

Bucking the trend were National Distillers, Sears Roebuck and Pullman, each at a new 1942-43 top; Westinghouse, Standard Oil of N. J., and Consolidated Edison.

Commodities were colorless. Grains and cotton both held around last night's closing levels. Bonds were quiet and mixed.

Housing Need Shows Increase

Survey Is Completed Of Situation Through Chamber Of Commerce

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 4.—The housing shortage in Ellwood City is becoming more and more acute according to a survey completed through the Chamber of Commerce.

The talk of eliminating the shortage of homes to some extent through "conversion" of some of the large homes here seems to be out as the survey shows that only three such homes would really be available for such purpose.

This plan by which the HOLC leases the home for seven years and then converts it into apartments for war workers is by far the best for Ellwood City but with only three such types of homes available here in the community it would not help the housing shortage to any extent.

A waiting list of approximately 30 families is on the books at the local defense housing unit and the survey shows 86 more families wishing to move to Ellwood City.

Of the 86 families wishing to move here, some 54 heads of these families are driving 40 to 50 miles each day to reach their work here in Ellwood City war industries. Two local industries are just receiving their new machinery and this will mean additional out-of-town skilled machinists to be employed.

Local builders are doing everything possible to build individual homes but the method of obtaining priorities for these homes are next to impossible. Unless the situation is remedied by this spring, it looks like the government will have to expand their housing project on the town site.
